WARNING

to EXPECTANT MOTHERS

If you have ever been a patient in any hospital, you are probably familiar with the advantages of a liquid laxative.

All doctors know the value of the laxative whose dose can be measured, and whose action can be controlled.

The public, too, is fast returning to the use of liquid laxatives. People have now learned that a properly prepared liquid laxative brings a perfect movement without discomfort at the time, or after. Dr. Caldwell's long experience with mothers and babies, and his remarkable record of nearly three thousand births without the loss of one mother or child, should give anybody complete confidence in any prescription which he wrote!

But most important of all, a gentle liquid laxative does not cause bowel strain to the most delicate system, and this is of the utmost importance to expectant mothers and to every child.

Expectant mothers are urged to try gentle Syrup Pepsin. It is a delightful tasting laxative of delightful action, made of fresh herbs, pure pepsin and active senna. Not a single mineral drug to be absorbed by the system, or irritate the kidneys.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is an approved preparation and kept ready for use by all druggists.

Father DARKLEAF'S Column

They're telling this one around town: a certain Appomattox man was in Richmond. He had to call here on his home on long distance. The operator reported that his home just wouldn't answer. Finally the man, in desperation, declared, "Well if you know someone is there, see if you can't get this cook to answer." To which the operator replied: "Maybe that's who has been answering, every time we ring and say 'long distance from Richmond', someone says 'sho 'tis' and hangs up. "

A Beer Sauce for Fish

Schroeder Hotel Chef has unusual recipe

COMING from Milwaukee the home of fish famous for its beer, we can perhaps understand this one.—It's a recipe for a special fish sauce in which bottle beer is used. It is a favorite recipe of Theodore Happke, Chef at the Schroeder Hotel in Milwaukee.

Recipe.

4 ounces fresh mushrooms cut fine and braised.
2 ounces gingersnap crumbs.
1 stalk celery, finely cut and parsley.

Put in a fish kettle the desired fish, add the onions, celery, gingersnap crumbs, parsley, salt. Cover the whole completely with a light bottled beer and cook slowly until done.

To prepare Sauce, use the fish broth, cook it down to two thirds of its volume and put thru a sieve—add 6 ounces of fresh butter, beat lightly and pour over fish when serving.

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY School Lesson

(By REV. P. H. FITZWATER, D. D., Member of Faculty, Moody Bible Institute of Chicago.)
© 1934, Western Newspaper Union.

Lesson for May 20

THE FUTURE OF THE KINGDOM

LESSON TEXT—Matthew 25:1-13.
GOLDEN TEXT—And the seventh angel sounded; and there were great voices in heaven, saying, The kingdoms of this world are become the kingdoms of our Lord, and of his Christ; and he shall reign for ever and ever. Rev. 11:15.

PRIMARY TOPIC—A Story About a Wedding.
JUNIOR TOPIC—When Jesus Comes.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Always Ready.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Christian Preparedness.

This lesson is part of the well-known Olivet discourse giving a prophetic view of the course of time from the crucifixion to the second coming of Christ. Two great facts are before us in this prophetic utterance, the destruction of Jerusalem and the second coming of Christ. The one was near, having taken place within forty years from Christ's crucifixion; the other is still future.

The parable of the ten virgins is one of the two parables designed for the instruction of the saints in view of the coming of Christ. It has a continuous application in the present time (1 Thess. 4:16-18; Titus 2:11-13).

I. The Equipment of the Virgins (vv. 1-5).

1. The foolish virgins (v. 3.) They took lamps but had no oil with them. Lamps signify Christian profession (Matt. 5:16) and the Holy Spirit (Zech. 4). Having lamps but no oil shows that they were professors of religion without possessing its reality. The Christian life is sustained by the Holy Spirit. As soon as one is regenerated the Holy Spirit takes up his abode within him. The proof that one is a child of God is that he has the Holy Spirit dwelling within him (Rom. 8:9).

2. The wise virgins (v. 4). They possessed both lamps and oil. They made a profession and backed it with a life of real righteousness. These are the true believers. Both the wise and the foolish virgins slumbered and slept. The common lot both of professing Christians and real Christians. They fell under the spell of sleep (v. 5). This shows that as the age lengthens the real and professing church will cease looking for the coming of the Lord. It is unspeakably sad that so many, even of God's saints—the wise virgins—should give up the expectancy of the return of the Lord.

II. The Coming of the Bridegroom (vv. 6-12).

1. The midnight cry (v. 6). In the midst of the night when all the virgins were asleep the cry was made, "Behold the bridegroom cometh, go ye out to meet him." Who knows but that the time of this cry is close at hand?

2. The activity of the virgins (v. 7). They all arose and trimmed their lamps. There will be great activity when the Lord comes, those who only make a profession then realizing that they lack what is essential to entrance to the marriage feast.

3. The foolish request the wise to share their oil (vv. 8, 9). The revelation of Christ will make manifest the genuineness of our religion and expose the folly of mere profession. When the Lord comes it will be too late to mend one's ways.

4. The wise enter to the marriage (v. 10). It will matter little what else one has at that time if he has oil in his lamp.

5. The pitiful petition of the foolish (v. 11). They regard the Lord to open the door that they might enter to the marriage feast.

6. The awful judgment (v. 12). The Lord declared, "I know you not." Those who put off entering the strait gate Christ until that day shall be shut out from his presence.

III. The Solemn Obligation (v. 13).

"Watch, for ye know not the day nor the hour wherein the Son of man cometh."

1. Entering with Christ to the marriage depends not upon having professed to enter the Christian race but continuing therein. It is not enough that we can refer to the lighting of our lamps. If oil and light be wanting when Christ comes there will be no admittance to the heavenly banquet.

2. Borrowed religion will not avail at that day. Association with the most eminent of God's saints will not secure for us acceptance at that day. The essential thing is personal union with the Lord Jesus Christ through faith in his shed blood.

Five-Legged Tortoise Spells Chinese Doom

Tientsin.—A five-legged tortoise has made its appearance at the Ching Chung bridge, in the Chinese city of Tientsin, and superstitious farmers are now convinced that disastrous floods will come this autumn. Their alarm has been increased by the fact that a Chinese policeman, who first sighted the abnormal tortoise, climbed on its back disrespectfully, and irritated it. The farmers say this may mean that famine and pestilence will be added to the flood.

Big Family Proves Break for Bootlegger

Natural Well of Ice Found in South Dakota

Rapid City, S. D.—A natural ice well, 172 feet underground, from which crystal clear blocks of ice can be cut in hottest weather, is occasioning much interest here. The well is located at the gypsum plaster mill at Black Hawk, seven miles north of here.

In digging for gypsum at the plant, workmen sunk a shaft, at the end of which a large hole was excavated in taking out gypsum. This filled with water to a depth of eight feet, which freezes in summer and is coated with thick ice.

Woman Sues Post Office for Premature Suicide

Belgrade.—The wife of a workman is suing the post office authorities for having delayed the news that her husband had won a big prize in a lottery. She claims that her husband, who was a chauffeur, committed suicide through poverty and lack of work. If he had received the news 15 minutes earlier he would not have ended his life.

Lucky Scrap Jelly

Chip up pieces of candied fruit—you must have at least one-half cupful and you can use twice that amount if you like. If no candied fruit is around, use broken nut meats, or small bits of candy or raisins or dates stoned and finely cut.

Make 2 cupfuls of lemon or orange gelatine. Pour the gelatine into a mould and, when it is cool and begins to "set" add the diced candy. When serving time comes, turn the mould upside down over the serving dish. Wrap it tightly with a cloth wrung out of very hot water and the jelly will fall onto the dish.

Ogglesby Here Wednesday

Mr. Ogglesby, reemployment manager for this district will be here at the court house next Wednesday afternoon, and desiring to see him may do so at that time.

Folks, we've got to leave. Do you know what that means to us? I'll tell you.

Leaving means for many of us our last glimpse of the Southland, the gently rolling hills clad in soft greens and rust reds, shrouded in their mystic blue haze, dotted with simple, rough cabins, with a lone [illegible] wheeling endlessly over it all in his solitary pastrol, will be a sight that we'll perhaps [never see again.

CCC boys at Spout Springs will leave next Tuesday for Montana after 6 months here. On this Saturday night the boys are inviting their friends to a farewell party at the camp. The following article was written by "Bill" Briggs, for the camp Camp 1240.— Editor's note.

Leaving means a breaking of grand friendships with those hearty rugged people who till the hillsides and bottoms; people who live simple, pure lives; who are close to God in every day's life. We'd never seen people like them before. We thought that the picturesque folks who lived in the pages of fiction—hill-pp ple who were humble and honest and strong and clean - were fantasies of some man's imagination. But we've met you and we know that all the fine things they've said about you are true. From our cramped city life, where men are selfish and grasping and cruel, we have come to you and we've lived with you for seven months. Now on leaving, we think you are the most genuine people we have ever met.

Leaving means that that finest meals we've ever tasted will be left behind. You who have been so kind as to invite into your home and let us share your boundless fare have initiated us into the mysteries of "hoe-cake", "ve-ge-table-berry pie", "sargum" and a dozen other delicacies we never knew existed. How can we ever leave those biscuits hot from the oven, those beans with just the right seasoning and sweet potatoes that taste like a king's dessert? If Uncle Sam didn't supply the unreal power needed, we couldn't. But folks, we'll never forget.

Leaving means putting behind seven months of the hardest, cleanest and most soulful life we've ever lived. We've been made [illegible] to get those other men who have been their "friends homes" — Mr. Burke and Mr. Bailey, 8th round and joyful; Mr. Ferguson and Mr. Conner, friends of all smokers; Mr. Harris and Ewers, young men who became our pals, and Mr. Payne, the boss of the tool shop and a master saw sharpener.

In those six months, you've met our officers and no doubt many of you feel the same affection for them that we do.

Our CO has been an efficient officer but to most of us, he's been a wise, thoughtful and sympathetic man before he's been an officer. Many of us have little idea as to the amount of paper work and routine plugging it takes to keep a family of our size eating, sleeping, working and clean behind the ears. Captain McCherren has done more. To him, 1240 owes its rating as one of the best camps in Virginia. Perhaps you haven't seen a lot of him, but if you should pass the camp long after "lights out" most any night you'll see that the office is still lighted and if you should stop and go in, you'd find our commanding officer there. Seated at his rought desk among stacks of reports, letters, orders, requisitions and what not, he'll be plowing through tons of work, fortified only by his red and black pencil and a roll of Tums.

In the next six months, we're going to try to show the best camp in Montana and with Arthur E. McClarren at the helm, we've got a fine chance. Hats off to our skipper.

The man who pays the bills and buys the grub at camp is known to most of you. Lieut. Lawrence E. Nobles, the trim young officer who looks like Charles Ruggles and drives his charming wife around in a new V-8.

And so, folks, we're leaving. We're going out where people have red-skins and "Hirekfeet." We'll see you at our farewell party Saturday night for a last hank shake and a good-bye.

Until we meet again, Au Revoir.

Buckingham To Have Home-Coming May 30

Liberty Church Has Special Sunday

Every member of Liberty Baptist church and Sunday School is invited to be present next Sunday (D. C, which this year will inaugurate a county home-coming day, when Buckingham people, scattered everywhere through the state, will be welcomed back by a great throng of county people.

This year the program will be a highly interesting one. Promptly at 11 A. M. the assembled throng will hear the address of welcome, "My Country Tis of Thee," which Leslie A. Beasley, a member of the board of supervisors, will deliver the address of welcome, to be followed by another song, after which Mrs. Henry Street, formerly a Buckingham girl, now president of the Woman's Club, Richmond, will extend greetings from the old girls of Buckingham.

Hon. Patrick Drewry, of Petersburg, will then make a short address. There will be a song, then a box lunch for all under the trees and exactly around the spot where Lee' last tent was pitched after the Surrender at Appomattox, April 9, 1865.

At 1:30 the Memorial Day exercises proper will begin with the singing of General Lee's favorite hymn, "How Firm A Foundation." Rev. Jerry Barrell, of Buckingham, will deliver the invocation, and Mrs. Lawrence M. Morris, of Orange, will speak briefly.

The memorial address will be delivered by Dr. Douglas S. Freeman, of Richmond.

The music will be led by Alfred H. Strick, of Farmville assisted by I. B. Tucker, who for some time has been organizing the county and conducting music classes under PTA auspices. Choirs and choruses from Dillwyn, Dillwyn, Curdsville, Buckingham and elsewhere in the county will be present to sing the songs and hymns.

The celebration will be held on the fifty-seven acres owned by the Buckingham Chapter, U. D. C. This is immediately on U. S. Route 60, just two miles west of Buckingham Court House, and two miles east of Sprouses Corner, where U. S. north and south route No. 15 intersects Route 60.

Mrs. Albert J. Terrell, is "Bear Garden", New Canton, president of the Buckingham Chapter, will have general charge of the celebration.
